Books (Continued from page 692)

The Questions Girls Ask. Helen Welshimer. New edition completely revised by Elizabeth L. O'Neil. New York: D. P. Dutton and Co., Inc., 691 Fifth Avenue, 1949. 154 pages, $2.00.

This book attempts to discuss frankly and wisely the problems which face adolescent girls in growing into maturity. The author endeavors at all times to speak the language of the girls themselves and give them guidance in terms that they understand and respect. Chapters are based on real problems of conduct which all girls meet.

Nursing in Modern Society. Mary Ella Chayer. New York: D. P. Putman's Sons, 2 West 45th Street, 1947. 288 pages.

This book, a first volume of a new series which is to be called Modern Nursing, presents a concept of the true place of nursing in the social background of which it is a part. The three parts of the book deal with the impact of social forces upon nursing, the influence of social forces upon community health needs, and building a better future. Members of the nursing profession and public health workers alike will find much to interest them.

Handbooks of European National Dances: Dances of Czechoslovakia by Mila Lubinova, Dances of Switzerland by Louise Witzig, Dances of Sweden by Erik Salven, Dances of the Netherlands by Elise van der Ven-ten Bensel. Violet Alford, ed. New York: Chanticleer Press, 41 East 50th Street, 1948. Each 40 pages, $1.25.

There is a wide and growing interest in national folk dances, and these handbooks sponsored by the Royal Academy of Dancing and the Ling Physical Education Association will prove invaluable not only to teachers and students but to dance-lovers in general. Written by experts, they contain an introduction which explains the origins of the various types of dance; a detailed description of the national costumes, with four beautiful color plates; and step notation and music (arranged by Dr. Ferdinand Rauter) for four selected dances.
